Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claims 2,7,9,10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 2, 'the settings' and 'the cross-chamber blanking settings' lack proper antecedent basis.

In claims 7 and 10, 'the cross chamber blanking module' and 'the cross chamber blanking setting' lack antecedence.

In claim 9, 'the therapeutic agent' lacks antecedence.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 1,2,6-10 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-24 of U.S. Patent No. 6,687,539. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of the present application are considered to be an obvious variant of the claims of the parent patent.

4. Claims 1,2,6-10 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-7 of U.S. Patent No. 6,304,778. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of the present application are an obvious variant of the claims of the parent patent.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 1,2,8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Collins (5251621).

Collins shows an implantable unit 10 which includes 12,13,14, memory 121 and telemetry device 30 which connects to a programmer. Col. 8, lines 25-29 teach that operating parameters can be altered in the implanted module 10. Col. 10, lines 37-39 teach that cross channel blanking duration may be a programmable parameter. Re claim 8, the therapeutic agent is considered to be stimulation. Re claim 2, the time period is considered to be preset at the factory.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Collins in view of van Lake (5653737).

Van Lake teaches the fact that drug therapy is often used to treat arrhythmias, col. 1, lines 20-25. It would have been obvious to use drugs instead of electrical stimulation since it is common in the art, and a particular patient could respond better to one over the other.

9. Claims 6,7,10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Collins in view of Wickham (5891171).

Col. 1, lines 53+ of Wickham teaches that using a noise window is old and well known in the art. To compute the duration of the window to be based on the blanking settings is obvious in that one would want the window to be commensurate in scope with the blanking interval in order to blank all of the noise from the signal.
